An incubator turning ideas into sustainable services

Équipe Deliwrapp · 2026-10-27

Deliwrapp supports projects over time, from framing the problem to an operational and transferable service.

Create a decision framework

The first weeks align vision, needs and constraints. Explicit assumptions enable testing without confusing speed with haste.

Bring disciplines together

Product, design, technology, security and business need to talk early. Working together prevents late dead ends and makes decisions coherent.

Build to last

A sustainable service can be understood, maintained and handed over. Documentation, lean choices and shared learning are part of the product.
